

Table of Contents

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS .....	7
------------------------	---

NOTES ON TRANSLATIONS AND REFERENCING OF TEXTS ....	10
---	----

I BACKGROUND, THEORY AND SOURCES

1. INTRODUCTION .....	15
Familial patriarchy .....	18
Gender relations within the farm household.....	21
Women's practices behind the scenes as a challenge to familial patriarchy?.....	26
2. PRACTICES, PATRIARCHY AND POWER .....	29
Agency and cultural projects .....	29
Theorizing agency and social change .....	31
Household bargaining and hidden transcripts of resistance.....	33
3. RURAL INHABITANTS' PARTICIPATION IN THE NINETEENTH-CENTURY PRESS .....	38
The earliest newspapers aimed at the rural public .....	42
Obstacles faced by rural writers.....	47
Editors as gatekeepers to the public sphere .....	49
Local power struggles and anonymity .....	55
Who were rural writers and what were their motives? .....	59
Tapio's encouragement of female writers .....	64
Changing discourses on gender in the Finnish-language press of the 1850s and 1860s .....	70
4. SOURCE MATERIALS AND METHODS .....	78
Ethical considerations .....	79
Newspapers .....	80
Published and archived ethnographic descriptions .....	87
Realistic ethnographic fiction .....	91

II PRACTICES OF POWER IN EVERYDAY LIFE

5. THE RISE OF RURAL CONSUMPTION AND ITS DISCONTENTS .....	97
Coffee: the necessary luxury.....	100
New clothing styles and the critique of ostentation.....	103
Consumption and patriarchal power .....	106
6. HOME THIEVERY: A MORAL EVIL AND PRACTICAL DILEMMA .....	110
Ostentation and social competition.....	115
Home thievery in public discussion .....	117

The perilous consequences of home thievery .....	119
‘Great sackfuls of clothing’: trousseaux and wedding gifts .....	122
Contested spheres of authority and women’s justifications for home thievery .....	126
7. FEMALE GOSSIP AND ‘NEWS CARRYING’ .....	133
Female gossips in written sources .....	136
Gossip as a welcome source of news .....	138
Gossips, ‘singers’ and news carriers .....	140
Putting news carriers to good use .....	145
The power of negative gossip .....	149
Gossip as a threat to the reputations of the youth .....	154
Gossip as a domain of intersecting cultural projects .....	162

III THE EMERGENCE OF PUBLIC DISCUSSION ON RURAL GENDER IN THE PRESS

8. INHERITANCE, LABOUR INCENTIVES AND THE VALUE OF WOMEN’S FARM WORK .....	169
The 1862 debate in Tapio .....	170
Inheritance as a labour incentive for sons .....	180
The question of farm women’s daily needs .....	184
Testaments and wills as an unjust circumvention of the law .....	187
Was home thievery silently approved of in rural communities? .....	192
Home thievery as a hidden labour incentive for daughters .....	195
9. THE UNENLIGHTENED RURAL PATRIARCH .....	200
The farm master and household members’ needs .....	205
The father and his children’s upbringing .....	209
The farm master and the rationalized household .....	211
The unenlightened patriarch as an obstacle to modern social reform .....	215
10. HIDDEN TRANSCRIPTS AND THE LIMITS OF RURAL PATRIARCHY .....	222
The spatial organization of rural resources and the practised hidden transcript .....	223
On the trail of the verbal hidden transcript .....	226
Who really perceived home thievery to be a problem in the countryside and why? .....	232
Cultural projects of the patriarch under threat .....	234
New perspectives on gender history .....	238
Appendix I: Map of historical provinces in Finland .....	240
Appendix II: Finnish-language newspaper sources on home thievery ..	241
Archival source abbreviations .....	242
Unpublished sources .....	242
Literature cited .....	244
Index of persons .....	253
General index .....	254